Face Lifting Needed By Region

Substandard roads and schools are two obstacles which must be overcome before industry will locate in Eastern Kentucky, B. F. Reed, Drift, chairman of the Eastern Kentucky Planning Commission, said today.

Reed's remarks came as he welcomed approximately 50 Eastern Kentucky city and county officials to a meeting of the commission here this morning.

Outlining the purpose of the commission as being to improve the living standards and economy of Eastern Kentucky," Reed said:

"There are very few communities in Eastern Kentucky ready for industry at this time."

"We first need to clean-up, improve our school systems, and improve the administration of our local government. Much face-lifting remains to be done."

The three hour meeting was given over to explanations of Federal programs available to Eastern Kentucky cities for slum clearance, sewage facilities, and urban renewal.

Mr. Pappin George, Housing and Home Adiministration, Atlanta, Ga., said that before a city can become eligible for slum clearance under the Federal Urban Renewal Program it must have a "continuous workable program to prevent the spread of blight."

George said the Urban Renewal Program has as it's purpose the "idea of cleaning up sub-standard sections of a community.

"Under public law," he continued," the city may do this job itself, or through a Housing Commission."

"Once a city has made application for an Urban Renewal project," George said, "the Federal Housing and Home Agency will advance funds to determine if the plan is practical."

George said the city must show there is a need for improvement, that the city can raise it's share of the costs, and that the city will provide "new housing o remove the cause of the blightening influences."

Mr. George Lee, Federal Housing Authority, Atlanta, Ga., explaining the federal program for low-cost public housing, noting that the average taxpayer pays only six cents a year for the entire public housing program.

Walter Shouse, director, Division of Planning and Zoning, Department of Economic Security, Frankfort, urged Eastern Kentucky communities to take advantage of the disaster priorities now available to them under the Federal program.

Shouse said the Division of Planning and Zoning can now help cities get started on disaster-priority projects before the priority expires in July.

Hobert Wooten, City Manager, Hazard, explained this city's participation the past year in the Federal programs for Urban Renewal, housing and sewage treatment.

Wooten noted the city has already been approved for an Urban Renewal project on East Main Street to be financed from revenue bonds floated on the parking meter fund, and has been approved for a federal grant of $180,000 for a new sewage plant here.

"The city," Wooten said, "is now trying to get this amount increased to $216,000 due to the cost of construction."

Wooten said that city officials entering upon these projects must expect "criticism," but should "take the bull by the horns" and go ahead with them.

Wooten listed other obstacles as being the "reluctance of Eastern Kentuckians to accept aid of any kind," and their reluctance to change.

Forest Johnson, Chief Planning Division, State Higwhay Department, said his office recognizes the need of "high-speed" roads in Eastern Kentucky.

Johnson said the State Highway Department has several new roads "under consideration" for Eastern Kentucky, listing them as new routes from Hazard to Pikeville, Duane to Lost Creek, Jackson to Van Cleve, Pikeville to Prestonsburg and Jenkins to Middlesboro.

Others in attendance were Sam Isaac, J. O. Keller, Emerson Creech, Cumberland, County Judge Arthur Dixon, Letcher County, Mayor Steely Perrell, Corbin; Mayor H. H. Jacoba and Ernest Feichter, Cumberland; Mayor Hubert White, Middlesboro; Mayor Paul Buchannan, Barbourville; City Attorney F. R. Whalin, Middlesboro; Mayor Walter Stepchurch and Frank Beall, Evarts; Mayor William H. Layne, Morehead; H. Hogan, Morehead State College; City Manager Hugh Hall, and Jack Elswick, Pikeville; James T. Morgan, Harlan; John S. Anderson Jr., Winchester; H. H. Jacobs Jr., Cumberland, R. W. Black, Harlan; C R. Chrisman, Cumberland, the Rev. C. L. White and Dr. David Greeley, Harlan, Ernest H. Smith, Harlan, County Judge J. A. Smith, Perry County, Wilburn Caskey and Walter P. Walters, Ashland, Gail E. Godsey and M. F. Johnson, Frankfort, P. L. Johnson, Hazard, A. H. Evans, West Liberty, H. T. Marcum, Oscar P. Parsons and W. R Endris, Barbourville, A R. Barber, Hazard, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Gish, Whitesburg, and Dick Asher, Hazard.

Man Killed In Accident At Jenkins

Bodie, Ky. man, Emery Smallwood, 19, was killed Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the city limits of Jenkins, State Police reported here last night.

The accident was the fourth fatality in this area for the year as against 14 for the same period in 1957.

No details of the accident were available.

Two accidents were reported over the weekend by the State Police.

Lones Dunnigan, 39, of Jeff, was admitted to the Hazard Miner's Memorial Hospital for treatment of abrasions and bruises releived when his har plunged over a 30-foot embankment on Ky. 942 and crashed into a railroad switch.

Saturday morning, no injuries resulted when a car driven by Arthur Hall, 22, of Asher, collided with one driven by Hiram Brock, 48, of Hyden. Hall was cited for being on the wrong side of the road, following the collision on Ky. 421 two miles south of Hyden.

Sgt. Williard Cox, post commander, Hazard barracks, again reminded the public that "drunken driving" is the major cause of accidents in this region.

Cox also pointed out that

54th Opens Play Wednesday Night

Kentucky schoolboys swing into tourament action this week throughout the state.

And on the local scene, play in the seven-team 54th district tournament opens Wednesday night at Memorial Gym when Leatherwood engages the Eagles of Leslie County at 7:30 o'clock.

Thursday, Stinnett engages M. C. Napier at 6:30 p.m. in the first half of a double header that has Hazard and Buckhorn mixing it up at 8:00 p.m.

Coach Jim Buckner's Dilce Combs quintet swings into the tourney, Friday night, meeting the winner of the Leatherwood-Leslie County game at 6:30 o'clock in the first half of Friday night's two semi-final games. Lower bracket winners meet at 8 p.m.

Finals will be played Saturday at 8 p.m. There will be no consolation game.

If everything goes according to Hoyle, the 54th District will send Hazard and Dilce Combs into the regional tournament, next week.

The Bulldogs, on the basis of a 24-14 season's record, are strong favorite to take the district tourney, and getting good odds to show up well in regional play.

One hurdle for the Rittermen, however, in the district is Dilce Combs, a team that has shown steady improvements throughout the season.

Buckner's quintet, paced by Bo Begley, pushed the Bulldogs once this year and came within a hair of upsetting the city five.

Largely on the basis of their recent showing, the M. C. Napier Navajos, coached by Pete Grigsby, are cast in the role of a tournament darkhorse. The Navajos are rated to take Stinnett with ease, and could, given an on-night, provide trouble for other.

Thursday night, Jackson and Knott County meet at 7 o5clock and Cordia and Magoffin Institute, pair off at 8 o'clock.

Highly-regarded Breathitt County got the luck of the draw in the seven-team 55th district with a bye, and won't be playing until Friday night. Then, the Bobcats tangle with the winner of the Carr Creek-Hindman game in a match that promises to be as exciting as the finals of the N.C.A.A.

Weekly rating by the "experts" have the Bobcats in the role of region favorites. But anything could happen in the semi-finals of the 55th District.

Cordia is expected to get into the finals with little difficulty

Over Hindman, the 55th District gets off to a fast start, Wednesday night, when rivals, Carr Creek and Hindman, meet at 7 o'clock in the Hindman gym.

The game's a toss-up what with two of the state's top schoolboy hoop artists, Jim Calhoun, Carr Creek, and Jim Moore, Hindman, facing each

State Asks Bids On Three Roads

Telegraph Lines

In December, 1847, telegraph lines connected Kentucky's larger cities with Nashville and Cincinnati.

Tourney Play

The following is the schedule for games in the 55th District Tournament, opening Wednesday night at Memorial Gym.

Wednesday, 7:30 p.m.—Leatherwood-Leslie County (One game only).

Thursday, 6:30 p.m.—Stinnett-M. C. Napier; 8:00 p.m. Hazard-Buckhorn

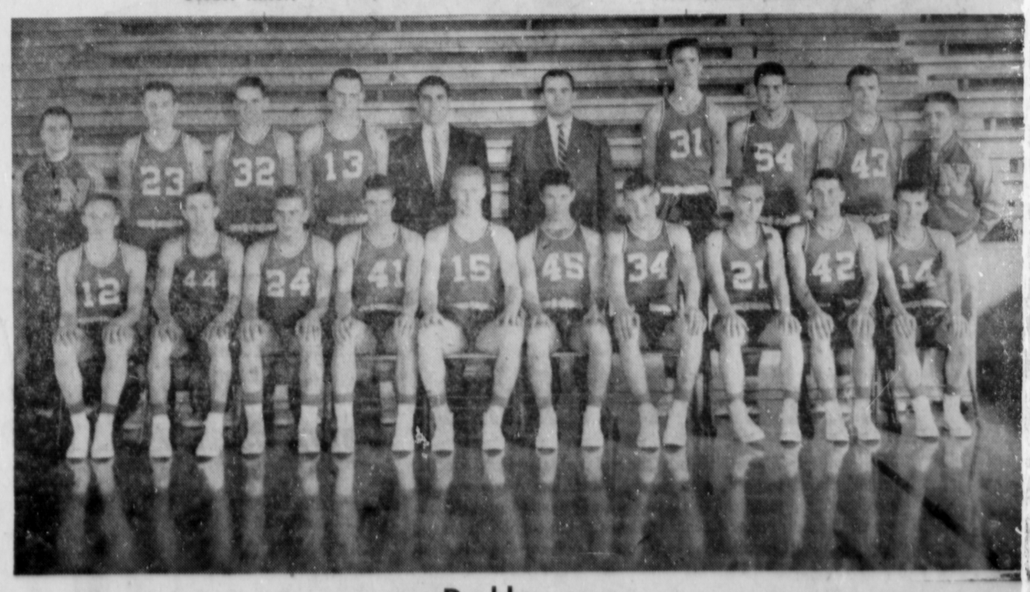

Friday, 6:30 p.m.—semi-finals, upper bracket, Dilce Combs vs. winner of Leatherwood-Leslie County game; 8:00 p.m., semi-finals, winner of Stinnett-M. C. Napier vs. winner of Hazard-Buckhorn.

Saturday, 7:30 pm., finals. No consolation game.

Parker Attends A. B. A. Meeting

Gene E. Parker, executive vice president of the Peoples Bank, has returned home after attending the annual executive session of the Country Bank Operations Commission of the American Bankers Association, which was held February 24 and 25, at The Shorline Hotel at Destin Florida. As a member of the Commission, Mr. Parker participated in planning means for improving internal operations in banks so as to provide better for their communities.

The Country Bank Operations Commission includes 13 senior bank officers geographically representative of the nation's country banks. They comprise one of the important working groups of the American Bankers Association.

One of the subjects discussed during the Commission's two day meeting was the further development of its bank manual entitled "Do's and Don't's for Bank Bookkeepers and Proof Clerks." Members of the Commission studied a tentative draft of the manual and made suggestions for its improvement.

A second project considered was preparation of a second manual in a series of personnel studies, "How to Train a Bank Employee." This study is being prepared in cooperation with the A.B.A. Committee on Employee Training. A third booklet in the series, "How to Train a Bank Bookkeeper," is now in the first draft. The series presents methods for training of employees in smaller banks.

Another project that occupied an important place on the agenda was a revision of its manual entitled "Simplified Cost Analysis for Smaller Non-departmentalized Banks." The first edition of this manual is now widely used in smaller banks throughout the country.

New projects which were discussed by the Commission were the possibility of developing a study on market research for smaller banks in cooperation with the A.B.A. Research Department. Another study that may be undertaken will be a survey of charges made by banks for miscellaneous services.

D. B. Cook, contact representative for the Kentucky Disabled Ex-Service Men's Board, will be in Hazard, March 11, 9-11:00 a.m. at the Countf Courthouse, to assist veterans and their dependents with claims for benefits due them.

Local State Police Active In Floyd Drowning

Nine State Police Trooper from the Hazard barracks have had a role in the Prestonsburg operation involving the drowning of 26 school children and their school bus driver in the swollen waters of the Levisa Fork.

One local trooper, Donald H. Goble, was a cousin to three of the children who drowned. Goble was one of the first officers to arrive on the scene of the disaster, reaching it as survivors were scrambling up the bank, only moments after the bus had plunged into the river.

He was enroute from Hazard to Prestonsburg to appear in court as a witness.

Others from here who have assisted in the operation were Sgt. Willard Mitchell, post commander, Sgt. James M. Cox, assistant post commander, and Troopers London T. Owens, Delmer Lafferty, Jerry M. Combs, Roy Hall Jr., Otis Anderson, Charles Webb and Goble, and John Quinelen, F.B.I. agent.

Two troopers, Owen and Goble, are still at the scene, Sgt. Mitchell reported last night.

Workers continued their search today for the bodies of 12 other children believed mired in the mud, or floating along the murky waters downstream from Knotly Hollow.

The big yellow Floyd County school bus, which struck a wreck truck, careened and went over a muddy embankment, Friday, was pulled from the fork of the Big Sandy River at 3:25 p.m. (EST) yesterday.

The 15 bodies it gave up were taken to an emergency morgue set up in the Prestonsburg Army Reserve Armory, where parents gathered for the grim task of identifying them.

The children ranged in age from 8 to 17, and were students at a Floyd county consolidated school.

The first body removed from the crumpled, stone-scarred bus was that of James Thomas Ousley, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orvill Ousley, of Lancer..

The bus, lying on its right side when discovered shortly before 1 p.m., had floated some 200 feet downstream. It had come to rest on the opposite side of the river from the embankment over which it plunged shortly after 8 a.m., Friday.

Road Contracts May Total 94 Million

Frankfort, March 1—Contracts totaling $94,000,000 for Kentucky highway work "appear possible" in 1958, a Department of Highways spokesman says.

The forecast was made by A. O. Neiser, an assistant state highway engineer, at a recent meeting of the Kentucky Association of Highway Contractors at Louisville.

The spending estimate covers highway construction and maintenance the department expects to have performed under contracts awarded this year. It does not include engineering and right of way costs.

The total would more than double the amount of such contracts let in 1957, which slightly exceeded $40,000,000. The average for the last seven years was just above $35,000,000.

Ieiser, an assistant to Chief Highway Engineer D. H. Bray, explained the estimate was based on "a conservative analysis of field survey work, office and bridge design work" and "with an optimistic view of right of way acquisition."

Neiser declared "we are now over the hump as far as engineering plans are concerned. The Design Division fully expects to have plans completed in sufficient number to use all federal money available this year except for some of the federal aid urban (projects) money. It may now be said that the fate of the 1958 highway construction program rests on the shoulders of the Right of Day Division . . ."

Inability to acquire necessary right of way could delay award of work contracts, departmental officials explained.

Neiser added that the "department intends" to acquire necessary right of way "without high pressuring the property owners and without scandal."

Construction Work Shows Decline

New York, March 1 — January contracts for future construction in the United States registered the sharpest decline in more than a year, the F. W. Dodge Corporation, construction news and marketing specialists, reported today. The January 1958 contracts totalled $2,066,059,000 a drop of ten percent from the same month last year. The extent of the decline was widespread, with nearly every major category showing a decrease from a year ago.

Contracts for non-residential buildings in January 1958 were valued at $758,771,000, down 17 percent from the comparable month last year. Within this category, manufacturing buildings registered the shortest drop, with contracts running 53 percent below a year ago. Commercial and educational building contracts showed declines of six and four percent respectively. Contracts for hospitals and religious buildings were down substantially.

Residential building contracts in January 1958 amounted to $777,423,000, five percent below the January 1957 level. Contracts for one- and two-family houses accounted for the major portion of the decline, while apartment building contracts continued to show strength relative to a year ago. The number of dwelling units represented by the January residential contracts totalled 63,121, down two percent from last year.

Heavy engineering construction contracts in January were valued at $529,865,000 down seven percent from January 1957. Sharp declines in the public works category, particularly in the Far West, more than offset substantial gains in utili-

500 Expected At Road Conference

Frankfort, March 1 — The 10th annual Kentucky Highway Conference is expected to attract an attendance of at least 500.

It will be conducted March 12-13 at the University of Kentucky, Lexington, under joint sponsorship of the University and the Kentucky Department of Highways.

Purpose of the meeting is to bring together state, county and city engineers, various officials, highway contractors and others interested in better roads and streets to hear discussions and interchange ideas.

Gov. A. B. Chandler is scheduled to address a luncheon audience March 12 after a welcoming address that morning by U. K. President Frank G. Dickey and a talk on "Programming Highway Construction" by Highway Commissioner James W. Martin.

Four separate group sessions the afternoon of March 12 will be devoted to various aspects of highway and street design, construction, maintenance, and management.

Dr. T. E .H. Williams, professor of highways, King's College, Great Britain and visiting lecturer now at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., will speak at the March 13 luncheon meeting. That morning D. H. Bray, Kentucky's chief highway engineer, will discuss the state's highway program and W. O. Snyder, executive secretary, Kentucky Association of Highway Contractors, will describe the highway industry's potential in relation to the construction program.

Delphia Marine In Philippines

(FHTNC) Marine Cpl. Adolph Mayhew, son of Mrs. Bill Mayhew of Delphia, Ky., is participating in an air, sea and land exercise with the 3rd Marine Division in the Philippines, during the first week of March.

In addition to the 3rd Division, the 1st Marine Air Wing, the U. S. Seventh Fleet, units of the 1st Marine Division from Camp Pendleton, Calif., and Philippine units will make up the assault force for the amphibious exercise, code named "Operation Strongback."

The actual assault will be made at Dingalan Bay, a training area used in the past for similar operations by the Okinwa based Marines.

Nunn Completes Air Force Bases

Airman Walter Nunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nunn, Walkertown Street, Hazard, has completed the first phase and has entered the second phase of basic military training in the 3706th Basic Military Training Squadron at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

New enlistees in this phase of basic military training participate in a progressive program which includes processing, physical conditioning, varied classroom studies ranging from citizenship to military studies of customs and courtesies, and the rudiments of military science and tactics.

Like the United States Air Force Officer Candidate and Pre-Flight school, also located at Lackland, second phase training prepares graduates for eventual duties of critical importance to the Air Force and the nation.

Tree-Shaded Streets

Princeton, an industrial and retail center and seat of Caldwell County, is widely known for beautiful tree-shaded streets and well-kept old homes. Underneath the town flows a subterranean stream that is the town's water supply.

Timber Owners Allowed Helps In Income Taxes

Certain income tax benefits exist for Kentucky timber owners, says James Newman, UK Agricultural Extension Service forester, which may cut the amount of tax paid.

For instance; Owners may deduct a timber depletion allowance which is the owner's investment in timber harvested. Second, timber sales may be treated as capital gain rather than as ordinary income; this gives a good savings in amount of tax paid.

Timber must have been owned for at least six months, and in some cases for six months prior to the tax year, to get the capital-gain treatment. A timber depletion allowance and fees paid, etc., are always deductible from gross sales, Newman said.

Fees paid to consulting foresters for cruises, timber-marking or scaling in connection with timber sales are deductible, as well as certain other costs of forest operation and ownership.

In addition to income tax, Social Security benefits also may be helped by proper bookkeeping. It MAY be to the advantage of farmers to treat receipts from forest products—logs, pulpwood, and such—as ordinary income from farm operations.

A booklet, "Federal Income Tax Tips for the Small Timber Owner, available at 20 cents from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D.C., is helpful, Newman pointed out, in picking up these tax-reducers.

Home of 4 Governors
